DRANK A PINT OF GIN.

A Colored Woman Meets Her Beath from Alcoholism.

At an early hour yesterday morning Mary Warner, a young colored girl, was found dead in an old woodshed in Cottage Row. The police were at once notified, and the body was sent to the morgue. As Mary had been seen with a number of young colored men on the night previous, it was first thought that she had been fouly dealt with, and Thomas Jackson, Daniel Gill, Augustin Mullen, Benjamin Wayne, and Samuel Thompson were arrested on suspicion of murder.

In the afternoon Coroner Patterson held an inquest at the Sixth Precinct, and after hearing testimony from a number of witnesses the jury concluded that none of the men could be held responsible for Mary's death, and they were dismissed. It seems that for some time the woman has had no home, but for the last week or ten days has been living with a Mrs. Day. On Thursday night she met Daniel Gill and Au-gustus Mullen on the street, and from the former she borrowed twenty five cents, which she invested in a pint of gin, which she drank.

Soon afterwards she became intoxicated and fell down in the street. The boys carried her in the shed where she was found and laid her down, thinking that when she sobered up she would go home. They were afraid to take her there in the condition in which she was in. Dr. Schaeffer made an autopsy and found in the condition in the condition of found her lungs and body very much congested, and the jury returned a ver-dict that death was due to alcoholism

SETS ITS DRESS AFIRE.

A 5-Year-Old Child Literally Roasted to Death,

One of the saddest accidents that occurred yesterday was the fatal burning of the 5 year old daughter of Mrs. Mary Van Alstine, who resides at 410 Sixth street northwest. The little one had in some way got hold of some matches and was playing with them on the back porch of the house.

Mrs. Van Alstine thought that the child was in the house playing with her dolls, and the first intimation she had of the danger she was in was when she came rushing through the hall of the house with ber clothes all in flames. The fire was smothered by a blanket in the hands of the mother, but not until the little one had been burned almost

BRILLIANT CONTEST IN THE AFTERNOON

Harry Muce Pitched Great Ball, and So Did German --- The Work of the Week.

The Washington Club did not exactly cover itself with glory yesterday, for it just two games to the Baltimor team. The morning game, which was played in this city, was witnessed by nearly 3,000 persons, the largest crowd of the season. The home team played a miserable game and went to pieces in the fourth inning, when the Orioles plied op eight runs. It was sufficient to win the game, and the Washingtons were never in it thereafter. Phillips pitched good ball, but he did not receive the support he should have in the field. while the club's old weakness, inability to bit the ball, told heavily against it. for it had chances time and time again, when men were on bases, to bat out a victory, notwithstanding the long lead of the Baltimores. With the exception of the fourth luning, the game was exellently played.

The afternoon game in Baltimore was played to a large audience, the largest even seen on the Baltimore grounds. The game was a splendid exhibition, and that they lost it was due to the umpire in arbitrarily deciding Bird out at the home plate because it was alleged that Whistler interfered with the catcher. Harry Mace pitched an effective game, only three hits being made off his delivery. off his delivery.

The game abounded in numerous brilliant plays, and four times were the Baltimores in a pocket. The Senators had nine men left on bases—five of them on third base. Three times they had two left. Washington once had two men on bases, with no hands out, but both were left. When they scored their two runs they had three men on the bases, with none out. Frequently they had two men on bases with but one and two hands out. Baltimore was in the same boat, but their mistake was in be ing too anxious to steal bases, especially when the uncertainty of the game was so apparent. Two men were thrown out at second by Nichols and three at third. One was also caught between Both sides fought bravely, despite their misfortunes, until the eighth inning, when Baltimore broke the fee and won the game. Sommer bunted slow one toward third and beat the ball After stealing second, he went to third or Henry's sacrifice. Then German wer ut on a fly to Wentz. Long took his base on balls and started to steal second just as Mack drove a neat single past first, and sent Sommer home, putting Long on third. Mack stole second, and ooth men came in on Ray's double to

It was a grand inning. Washington was up to snuff, and made a grand spuri.
Whistler hit safely to Ray, heating the ball. Bird also made a bit. Then Hill got a base on balls, filling the bases. None were out, and the speciators were standing. Wentz struck out. Jordan ined one out to right field, which Henry fielded to the plate in fine style. Whist er had scored his run, but interfered with Townsend, and Bird was given out. While the kick was being made. Hill ran in home, scoring the second run. Nichols went out to center field.

To day the Washingtons play in Atlantic City with the Wilmingtons. The team temains away until the 10th, The burning occurred about 10:30 playing with Wilmington and Newark, o'clock in the morning, and the child Then the club returns for a short season

The work of the club during the week has been highly satisfactory, and it has won five out of the seven games played. It might have improved on this had it put up a good article of ball yesterday morning, but no one is dis-posed to grumble at the club as it is. It has done well in the face of adverse circumstances, and it deserves a great deal of senterior in sect. Its needline deal of praise for its work. Its position is considerably better than it was a week ago, and although it has failed to justify Sollivan's prediction that it would be among the leaders by the Fourth of July, it has improved its standing somewhat and is within reaching the control of the standing somewhat and is within reaching the standing somewhat and is standing to the standing somewhat and is standing to the standing the standing somewhat and is standing to the standing the standin ing distance of the two leaders, with a good opportunity of making a Murphy

THE POURTH AND THE GAME. All the clubs had what they desired sesterday—pleasant weather—and in consequence the largest number of per-sons who ever attended holiday games witnessed them. It was a Godsend to some of the clubs, for had it rained they would have been crowded to the wall. As it is the large attendance will materially assist the clubs to tide over the remainder of the season. The Brotherhood fight may now be expected to go on until the end of the season, when it will die a natural death.
